This feature was requested by Joel so he can create some pages as documentation on how to use the system for provider admins.

Hi Asif,

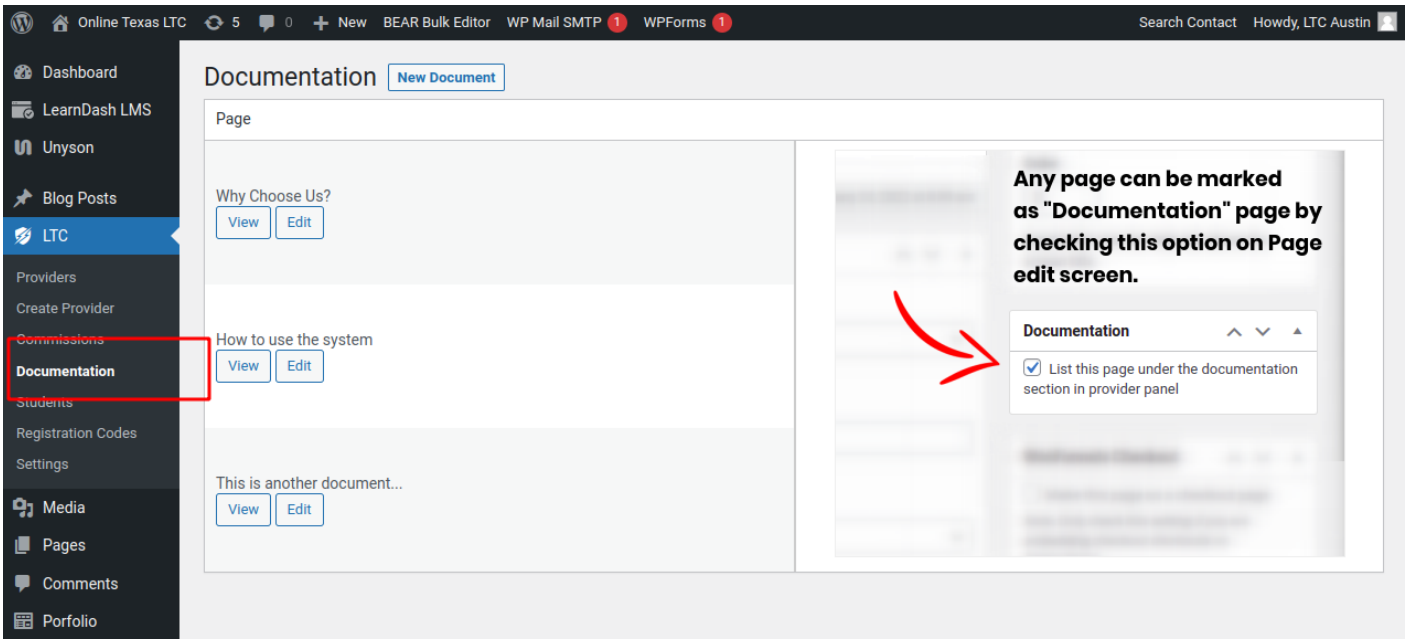

I hope I am not sending too many emails. Just going through different aspects of the site. Hopefully Kevin can also be going through the website to held. There are so many aspects and so much custom development, it will probably take me going through it multiple times to get it how it needs to be. Any questions or concerns you have with any feedback I provide, please let me know.

Also, I have activated Elementor Pro. So putting the user counter on the front page can be done. Can the product pages also be done using an elementor template? This would allow me to have more control over the look of the product page instead of having to make the requests through you. If it is better to just have you make the changes to the product pages, that is totally fine also. Just trying to reduce the requests I make to you.

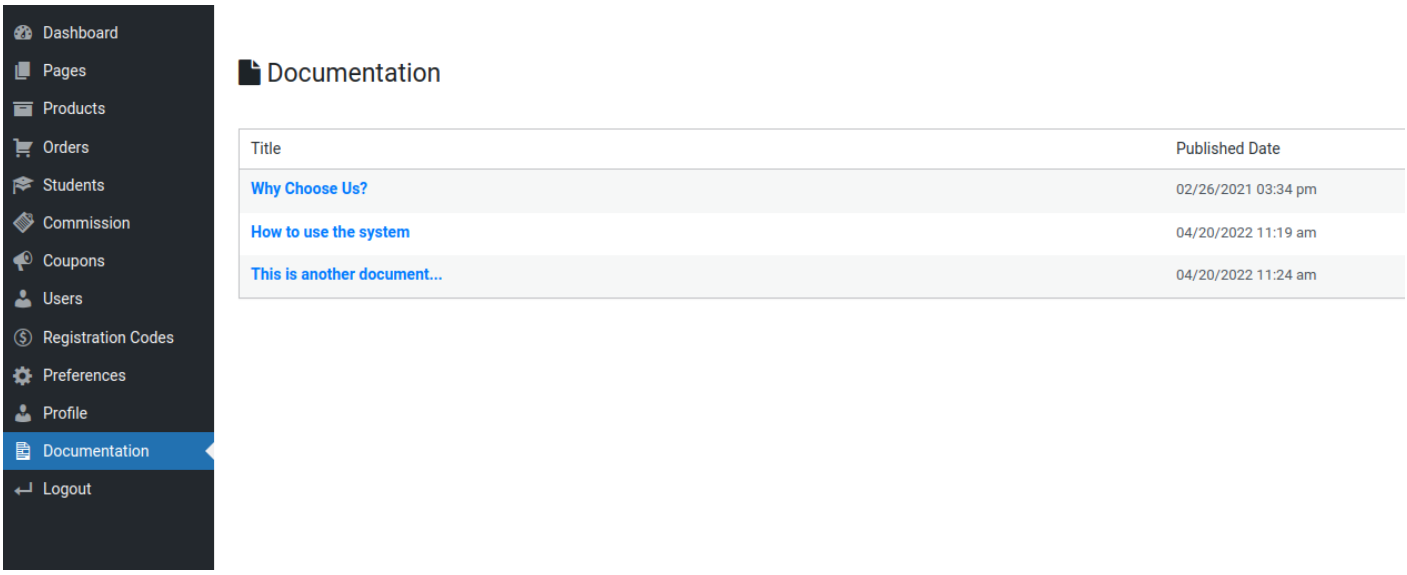

Can we also add a page/tab to the provider admin panel called documentation? This is a page that I will need to create with screenshots showing the providers how to use the admin page. Most of these people are not tech savvy at all and have a hard time doing basic computer tasks, so I know the provider admin panel is going to initially be very confusing.
